

e x p e r i e n c i n g CHURCH AT HOME

We are hearing some very good feedback from last Sunday's experience with "Church at Home." There must have been over a hundred gatherings in homes across Singapore as the Cathedral community gathered in small groups. Here are some of the feedback we received in writing:

"It is more meaningful to have communion with others... breaking bread alone doesn't sound communal. Thank you too for the meaningful prayers."

"Very good fellowship with one another. Hale and hearty camaraderie. Service was meaningful and held in reverence."

"It was wonderful to meet in person after such a long time."

I am sure there will be many more positive responses. We also welcome feedback on ways we can improve.

Gathering to worship, hearing His Word, sharing the Lord's supper and then fellowshiping over a meal is about as close one can get to experiencing the life and worship of the church. In fact, some will say that this has been and should be the heart of church life. The good news is that our bishop has extended the dispensation for online communion for another three months. Perhaps we can work with a regular rhythm and the online communion can be a high point where we can all be gathered in small groups.

His Word and refresh our understanding of our fundamentals again.

As James will put it, if anyone lacks wisdom, let him ask the Lord for it (James 1:5). Indeed that will be my posture as I prepare to pastor another parish w.e.f. 1st January 2021. I am desperate for divine wisdom and a Word in season from Him as I pray along with the leadership of this parish. As hearts are tender and broken before Him, may He do a deep and new work. May there be a harvest of righteousness (James 3:18) and an abundance of fruitfulness as the Body of Christ is awakened to His calling, grace and goodness.

Though I am leaving the Cathedral, be assured that I will be praying for the new leadership team that He may continue to be Lord over His church and accomplish His will and purpose. May His wisdom be a deep imprint over the entire life of the Cathedral.

This pandemic season can reveal a lot to us about what the Church is called to be and I ask that we go back prayerfully to

A TIME FOR Thanksgiving

In this new season, let us all, as a Cathedral community, come together to give thanks to God for the service of our departing clergy and deaconess and welcome the incoming team of clergy.
