

The DEEPER Life: SHARE HIS LOVE

When we are in love, it shows. We can't help it. Love overflows. God's love is the same, it's for sharing. We should let God's love overflow out and around us. God's love comes to us and flows through us. It's not a love to be kept within us. John addressed this process in 1 John 4:9-11: "This is how God showed his love among us: He sent his one and only Son into the world that we might live through him. This is love: not that we loved God, but that he loved us and sent his Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins. Dear friends, since God so loved us, we also ought to love one another."

Before we go any further, we need to establish one important and fundamental truth about God's love - God's love is never determined by who we are, our status, our qualifications, and what we have and have not accomplished in life.

His love for us is unconditional, and He has also called us to love one another unconditionally. God's love comes to us and flows through us. The more we embrace and experience it, the more we share it with others. There are endless ways to allow God's love to flow through you as you love others as He has loved you.

What does God's love look like for you this Christmas? Is it spending time with your family? How about serving neighbours or others who are lonely or hurting? What about forgiving someone who has hurt or wronged you? Think of one way right now that you can share God's love during this Advent season, leading to Christmas and beyond. May this be a season of accepting, experiencing, and sharing God's love in a new and deeper way!
