Matthew 20 :29-34

2 Blind Men Receive Sight

As Jesus and his disciples were leaving Jericho, a large crowd followed him. Two blind men were sitting by the roadside, and when they heard that Jesus was going by, they shouted, “Lord, Son of David, have mercy on us!”

The crowd rebuked them and told them to be quiet, but they shouted all the louder, “Lord, Son of David, have mercy on us!”

Jesus stopped and called them. “What do you want me to do for you?” he asked.

“Lord,” they answered, “we want our sight.”

Jesus had compassion on them and touched their eyes. Immediately they received their sight and followed him.

Matt 21:12-14

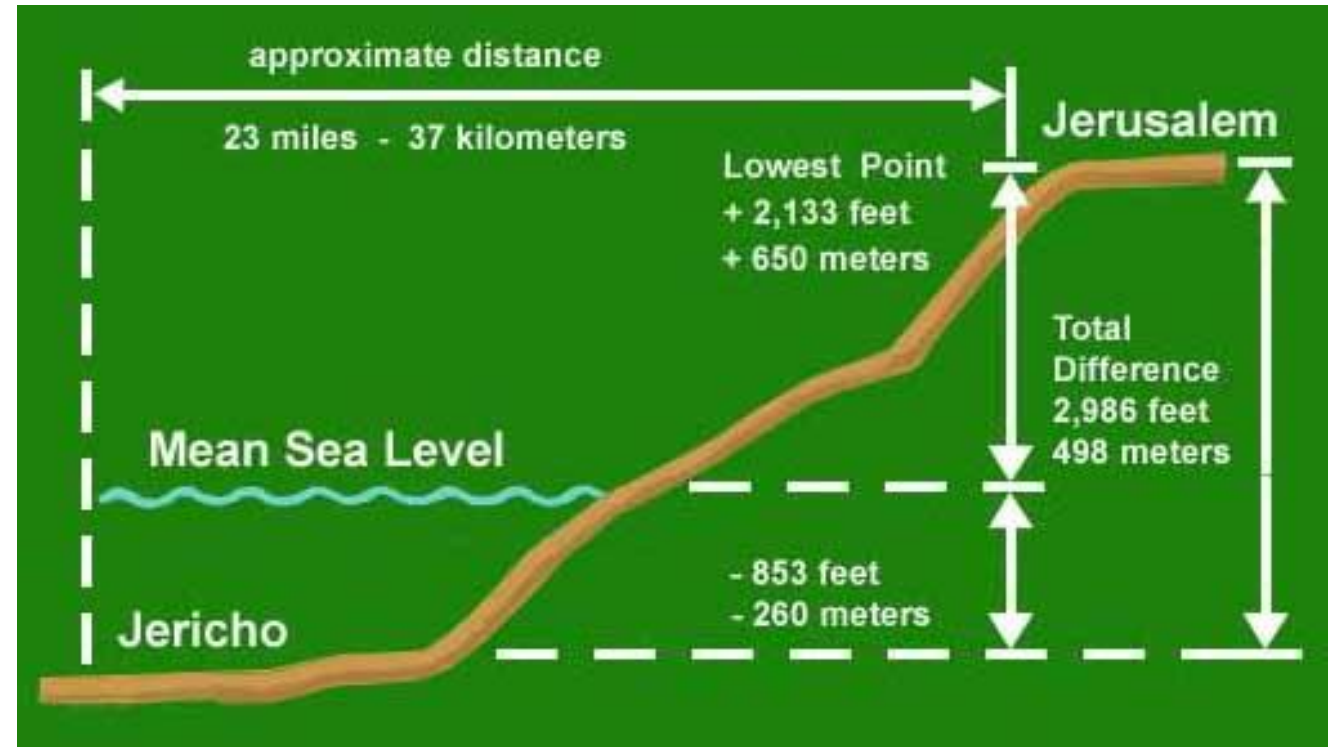

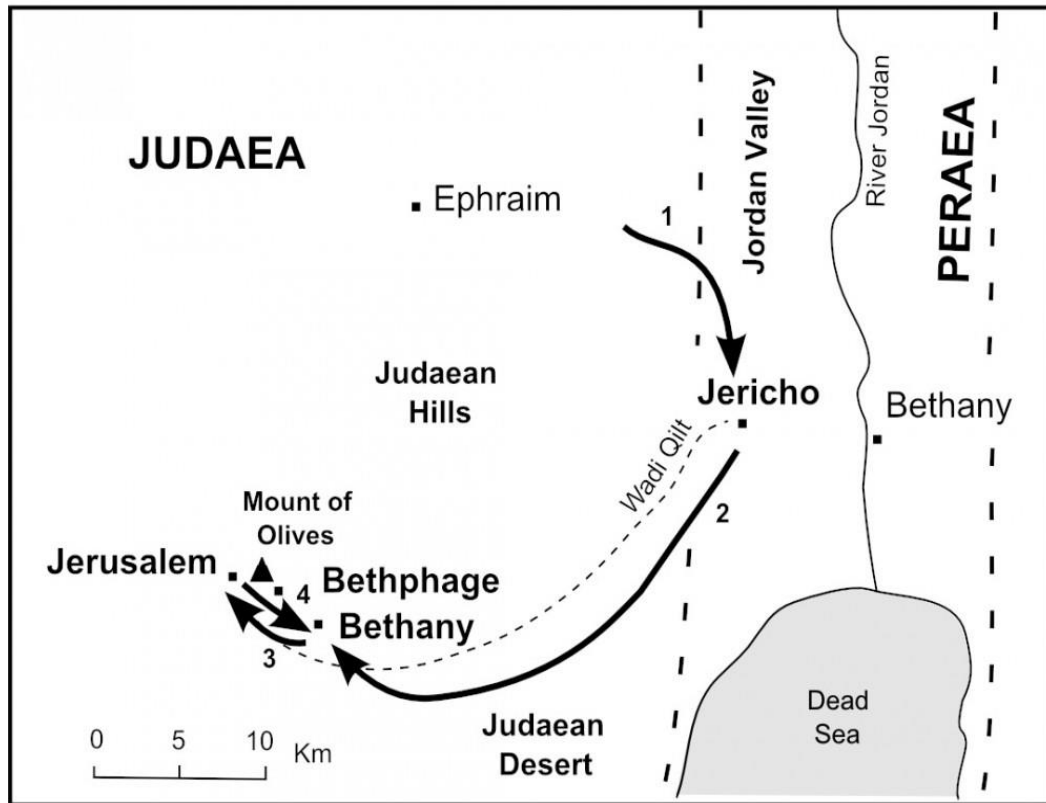

Jesus entered the temple courts and drove out all who were buying and selling there. He overturned the tables of the money changers and the benches of those selling doves.

“It is written,” he said to them, “My house will be called a house of prayer, but you are making it a den of robbers.”

The blind and the lame came to him at the temple, and he healed them.

Jacqueline's triumph over adversity

BY NEO XIAOBIN

STUDENT Jacqueline Woo, 17, cannot speak clearly and cannot hold a pen to draw diagrams and graphs.

Even keeping her head up is a challenge for the Methodist Girls' School student, who has been wheelchair-bound since the age of four because of dystonia, a movement disorder characterised by involuntary and sustained muscle spasms.

Despite her condition, she scored five distinctions – in English, Chinese, mathematics, additional mathematics and combined humanities – in last year's O-level examination.

She said: "Actually, I was hoping to get straight As. It is a little disappointing because of all the hard work I put in."

assessment Board for Jacqueline to be exempted from drawing in her maths and science exams. Luckily, she was exempted InfoComm Club and took part in community projects. "There are many things I have learnt that made me aware of how fortunate I am," she said.

She hopes to go to Anglo-Chinese Junior College and land a computer-related job in future.

She was among 37,424 school candidates who sat for last year's O-level examination.

Of these, 99.9 per cent had at least one O-level pass and 81.1 per cent had at least five passes.

The top student was CHIJ St Nicholas Girls' School's Lai Kai Rou, who scored 10A1s.

In the 2008 O-level exam, there were 36,640 school candidates, of whom 99.9 per cent had at least one pass and 80.8 per cent had at least five.
